Art Unit: 2624

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 4, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Berkovich et al [4,598,411].

As to claims 1, 7, Berkovich et al disclose a video image capturing and displaying method, comprising the steps of: capturing a video image consisting of a time series of image frame, each image frame comprising a plurality of sequential lines of pixels (see Fig. 1, item 10; col. 3, lines 40-41); compressing the video image with one of at least a first compressing mode and a second compressing mode for each basic compression unit (Fig. 1, items 12, 14; col. 3, lines 2-15); storing the compressed video image in a buffer (Fig. 3, item 50; col. 4, lines 51-60); decompressing the compressed video image stored in the buffer corresponding to the compressing mode (Fig. 1, item 18; col. 3, lines 20-25); and displaying the video image based on the decompressed video image (col. 3, lines 22-45).

As to claim 4, Berkovich et al disclose that the basic compression unit is one sequential line of pixel (col. 4, lines 15-17).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2624

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 2-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Berkovich et al.

As to claims 2, 3, Berkovich et al fail to disclose the compression ratios, differential pulse coded modulation, wavelet compression, and discrete cosine translation. These claim limitations are well-known in the art (Official Notice). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the above well-known compression schemes for the purpose of obtaining high compression ratios.

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1, 3-7 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 4-5, 7-9 of U.S. Patent No. 7,319,793. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patent claims include all the limitations of the application claims. For example, patent claim 1 includes all the limitations of claim 1.

8. Claims 1, 3, 5-7 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 12, 14-16 of copending Application No. 10/904705. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims of copending Application include all the limitations of the application claims. For example, claim 12 of copending Application include all the limitations of the application claims 1, 7.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
